

What people are saying about On the Road

"This book, conceived and illustrated with a keen eye, celebrates the passion of cars and the pleasure of driving. The more I read it, the more it makes me want to get in my car, and leave behind a note: 'Gone driving!'"

Robert Peugeot, Executive Vice-President, Innovation and Quality, Peugeot Citroën

"The freedom, desire and passion expressed in this book could turn even the most hardened cynic to a love of driving."

David Lewis, Commercial Director, RAC, United Kingdom

„I've been fascinated by driving ever since my 9th birthday when I first drove in the original VW Beetle because driving has always meant unconstrained motion.

Quenching my thirst for freedom, handling a beautiful car, listening to the sound of the engine while driving – a sound often as pleasant as that of a favourite song, these experiences are a special gift for which I am very grateful.

Pleasures such as these as well as many others are beautifully described in On the Road. “

Dr. Ferdinand K. Piëch, Ex-Chairman of the Board, Volkswagen AG

"There are still many opportunities on this crowded planet to enjoy the pleasure of driving for driving's sake, and this book memorably records how, when and where this can be achieved."

David Wakefield, Co-Founder of Caterham Cars, maker of the Legendary Super Seven

"Now here is a feast for road lovers: Peter's words and images bring to life in an incomparable way those little moments that encapsulate our love of driving."

Luca Gazocchi, Marketing Director, Maserati S.p.A.

"A delightful book that cleverly matches the fun of driving with a personal account of life's journey in a witty and enjoyable read."

Alastair Florance, Group PR Manager, Lotus Cars
